Verse 1 (Rap)
Em D

I wanna hit you up ain't got the words to say Cause all that junk would do is push you farther away

C C

And every time I see you acting like it's all ok You were the last one I ever thought would fall away

Em D

I never thought you'd change, never thought you'd stray
And run right back to the very things I know you hate

C C

With all you gone through now tell me why you go this way
Caught up in the junk, going where you came

Em D

Caught up on the run, your every day the same

You hold your head up high, living it without no shame

Em G D

And every day it gets a little harder just to pray

If I could sit you down, here's what I'd say

C Em Verse 2 (Rap)

Liv - ing like we do is so dang - er - ous

Your wings are broken yet you keep on flying

D C

Every time I talk to you, you never recognize it

Holding on to your past yet you keep denying

C Em

Try to mask your hurt in all the junk that you're trying

Yet I'll be lying if I said it's all ok

D C

You're missing church man, it's getting worse today

It's obvious that you're hurt, that's the role you play

C Em

The one where you blame and push everybody away

I have to say that He's the one you need

D Em G

The one that died, crucified now on that tree

And the final thing I've got to say now honestly
